294] bury, Lord Wentworth Feb 23, 1002

Moved to resolve, "That this House, having taken into consideration the statements that have been made on behalf of Her Majesty's Government, is of opinion that—

(1.) The deplorable failure of the Soudan expedition to attain its object has been due to the undecided councils of the Government and to the culpable delay attending the commencement of operations;

(2.) That the policy of abandoning the whole of the Soudan after the conclusion of military operations will be dangerous to Egypt and inconsistent with the interests of the Empire" (The Marquess of Salisbury) Feb 26, 1311

Amendt. To leave out from "That," insert "an humble Address be presented to Her Majesty, humbly representing to Her Majesty that the course pursued by Her Majesty's Government in respect to the affairs of Egypt and the Soudan has involved a great sacrifice of valuable lives and a heavy expenditure without any beneficial result, and has rendered it imperatively necessary in the interests of the British Empire and of the Egyptian people that Her Majesty's Government should not employ British forces to occupy the Soudan or to prevent the exercise by the Egyptian people of their right to select their own government" (The Lord Wentworth); after long debate, Debate adjourned

Opening of Museums on Sundays—The Natural History Museum, South Kensington
Moved to resolve, "That whereas a considerable majority of the Trustees of the British Museum present at a general meeting on the 17th of January last specially called to consider the question, voted in favour of opening the National History Museum at South Kensington on Sunday afternoons; and whereas it is desirable to afford the working classes of London such further opportunities of instruction, recreation, and enjoyment as they would obtain thereby, and as are already conceded in Manchester, Birmingham, Stoke-upon-Trent, Dublin, Newcastle, Middlesbro', and other centres of industry; that, for the above and for other reasons affecting the health and happiness, the morality and sobriety, of the working classes of London, this House is of opinion that the time has now come to support the decision taken by the Trustees of the British Museum in regard to this question" (The Lord Thurlow) Mar 20, [296] 7
Amendt. to leave out after ("That") insert ("the Trustees of the British Museum having applied to the Treasury for the funds necessary to light up the Natural History Museum with the electric light, and having lighted up the Reading Room of the British Museum with the electric light till eight o'clock at night for several years with 'very satisfactory results,' and having obtained estimates for lighting the whole of the British Museum at night with electricity, and bearing in mind that the South Kensington Museum has been opened till ten o'clock at night for twenty-eight years, and been visited at night by 6,885,722 persons, and that the Bethnal Green Museum has been opened at night for twelve years, and been visited in the evenings by 3,567,278 persons, and that a Parliamentary Committee has recommended 'That the British Museum and National Gallery should be opened on week-day evenings between the hours of seven and ten in the evening at least three days in the week,' this House is of opinion that the time has arrived when this recommendation should be carried into effect, and the national collections opened on week-day evenings but not on Sundays")

MESSAGES FROM THE CROWN

Order—Mr. Childers: I have always understood that the Rule is that when a Member appears at the Bar and informs the Speaker that he has a Message from Her Majesty to this House, signed by herself, he is desired to bring it up, and the Message is brought up to the Chair, and read by the Speaker, all Members being uncovered; and their being uncovered is recorded in the Votes and on the Journals. In all other cases of Royal Messages, we are not, I understand, expected to remove our hats—Mr. Speaker: I have to say that the right hon. Gentleman has correctly drawn the distinction between Messages direct from the Crown under the Sign Manual and read from the Chair, and Messages in Answer to Addresses from this House, [293] 260

The Serjeant-at-Arms

Mr. Speaker acquaints the House that he has received a letter from Mr. Gosset, the Serjeant-at-Arms, proposing to resign his office, and reads it to the House, [299] 1213
[See title Parliament—Serjeant-at-Arms]

PRIVILEGE

Mr. Speaker communicates to the House a letter from Mr. Bradlaugh, the Member for Northampton—and states the course he had taken thereon, [298] 1600; Motion to reaffirm the Resolutions of 11th February, 1884—Proceedings thereon, 1676, 1677, 1699

Sir Henry Drummond Wolff desired to appeal to the Speaker on a question of Privilege. In a Return to this House, presented by the Board of Trade, it was stated that Mr. Mac Iver, M.P., for Birkenhead, was the owner of the ship Stromboli; whereas he was not such owner. The President of the Board of Trade refuses to withdraw a statement which is false—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member for Portsmouth appeals to me on a question of Privilege; but I am bound to say that it is not at all clear that this is a question of Privilege. It appears that what was stated by the right hon. Gentleman was not stated in his capacity as a Member of this House. Therefore, it is not for me to interfere on the ground of Privilege, [294] 123, 126

THE NEW RULES OF PROCEDURE

Rule 1 (Putting the Question)—Mr. Speaker: Order! Order! It is my duty to inform the House that I consider that this subject has been adequately discussed; and I think it is the evident sense of the House that the Question should be put—After much interruption Mr. Speaker put the Question, [294] 1186
[See Parliament—New Rules of Procedure]

Rule 2 (Motions for Adjournment before Public Business) — Sir Herbert Maxwell having moved the Adjournment of the House—matter, the Bengal Tenancy Bill—and the pleasure of the House not having been signified—Mr. Speaker called upon those Members who supported the Motion to rise in their places; and not less than 40 Members having risen in their places, Sir Herbert Maxwell proceeded, [295] 628

Mr. Broadhurst having moved the Adjournment of the House—matter, the Composition of the Commission on Depression of Trade and Industry—and the pleasure of the House not having been signified — Mr. Speaker called upon those Members who supported the Motion to rise in their places; and less than 40 Members having risen in their places, the House proceeded to the Orders of the Day, [300] 1745

The Ninth Standing Order (Rule 2) provides Rules for moving the Adjournment of the House. On December 6, Lord Richard Grosvenor, at the commencement of Business, moved "That the House do now adjourn" [for the Christmastide Recess]; objected to as not complying with the Standing Order—Mr. Speaker: Under the exceptional circumstances of the case, the noble Lord was justified in making the Motion. Of course, it may be objected to. The Rule was passed in order to prevent vexatious or obstructive Motions for the Adjournment of the House; and, further, to prevent the interposition of such Motions at Question time, it was laid down that it must be "a definite matter of urgent public importance," [294] 844, 845, 846, 847, 848

[See Parliament—New Rules of Procedure —Rule 2]

Rule 5 (Irrelevance or Repetition)—Suspension of Mr. O'Donnell for continued irrelevance and disregarding the authority of the Chair — Proceedings thereon, [293] 1035, 1036, 1042

On Motion to postpone the Orders of the Day for resuming the adjourned debate on Egypt and the Soudan—Mr. John Redmond speaking to the subject of the dismissal of an Irish Constabulary officer — Mr. Speaker: I must remind the hon. Gentleman that the Rule of Relevancy strictly applies to this debate, [294] 1180

Mr. Speaker: Order! Order! The hon. Member (Mr. William Redmond) is not now addressing himself to the subject before the House. The hon. Member is altogether irrelevant, and I must call upon him to discontinue his speech—Mr. Redmond resumed his seat, [294] 1185

Mr. Speaker: I have allowed the hon. Member (Mr. Callan) the fullest latitude in his remarks, and I must now ask him to resume his seat on the ground of irrelevancy and tedious repetition, [300] 1428

Rule 8 (Half-past Twelve o'clock Rule)—The nomination of a Committee is exempted from the Half-past 12 Rule. The nomination of an ordinary Select Committee is also exempted from the Half-past 12 Rule, [297] 127, 128

Rule 9 (Order in Debate)—Mr. Speaker: I name Mr. O'Brien for disregarding the authority of the Chair—Mr. Kenny and other Irish Members: Name away—[Mr. Gladstone moved, "That Mr. O'Brien be suspended from the Service of the House"]

Mr. Sexton: I rise to a point of Order

Mr. Speaker: As no debate is allowed on this Question, it is my duty to put it from the Chair. . . . If the hon. Member rises to a point of Order he can be heard

Mr. Sexton: I wish to submit to you, Sir, that on every occasion hitherto, when a Member has been suspended from the Service of the House for disregarding the authority of the Chair, this formula has always been observed by the Speaker—"Mr. So and So, I name you to the House for disregarding the authority of the Chair," and then a Minister has moved a Motion to suspend him from the Service of the House—On this occasion, Sir, the only words which passed your lips were "Mr. O'Brien." You said nothing further

Mr. Speaker: The course which I adopted was perfectly regular—Ultimately the Question being put the Motion was agreed to, and Mr. Speaker directed the hon. Member to withdraw [Refer to the Debate], [294] 1188

"Disorderly Interruption"—Mr. Healy: I wish to ask you, Sir, a Question upon a matter of Order in relation to an Entry on the Votes, affecting the Journals of the House, which appears in the Votes at p. 134, in the following words:—"Mr. O'Brien, Member for Mallow, having been named by Mr. Speaker for abusing the Rules of the House by disorderly interruption." Can you inform me, Sir, which of the Rules of the House the hon Member for Mallow abused, and what was the nature of the disorderly interruption?—Mr. Speaker: I have no difficulty in answering the Question of the hon. Member. I consider that the hon. Member for Mallow both disregarded the authority of the Chair, and also abused the Rules of the House by disorderly interruption—which is clearly covered by the words of the Standing Order "or otherwise"

Mr. Healy, continuing, in reference to a Motion of which Notice had been given by Mr. Sexton—Mr. Arthur O'Connor: May I ask whether there has ever been a single instance where the conduct of Mr. Speaker has been impugned in which an opportunity was not immediately given for vindicating it? —Mr. Speaker: The course now proposed—namely, to proceed by Notice—has been repeatedly followed when the conduct of the Speaker in the Chair has been challenged. In fact, that is the ordinary and proper course, [294] 1422, 1423, 1424

Mr. Sexton rose in his place, and asked leave to move the Adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance—viz. the course of action pursued by Mr. Speaker during the sitting of the House on the 24th ult. in silencing the Member for Wexford (Mr. W. Redmond), naming the Member for Mallow (Mr. O'Brien), and procuring the application of the Closure Rule to a debate, and the consequent danger to the Constitutional rights of Members of this House to speak and vote—Whereupon Mr. Speaker, at length, stated his opinion as to the dangerous consequences to the order and discipline of the House were Motions of this nature, indirectly impugning the conduct of the Speaker in the Chair, permitted. And Mr. Speaker ruled this Motion to be out of Order, and said he would take upon himself not to allow it to be submitted to the House [Refer to the Debate], [294] 1912, 1916

Rule 12 (Notices on going into Committee of Supply)—Mr. Speaker explains, at length, the effect of the exceptions contained in the Standing Order of the 27th of November, 1882—namely, that they apply to first going into Supply on the Army, Navy, and Civil Service Estimates, or on a Vote of Credit. Supplementary Estimates do not come under that Rule, [293] 1598

Committee of Supply on Monday and Thursday—The Standing Order provides that no Amendment can be moved, or any question raised, unless it relates to the Estimates proposed to be taken in Supply—which Mr. Speaker took to mean in Committee of Supply generally, and not in reference to any particular class of Estimates, [296] 1010

Notice of objection given after the Motion for Adjournment has been agreed to will operate for the usual period after the meeting of the House, [295] 1040

Mr. Arthur O'Connor, having referred to Standing Order No. 425a, said: The point I wish, Sir, to submit to you is this—the Vote on Account which the Government propose to take to-night is for the Civil Services and Revenue Departments Estimates, 1885-6, and does not refer to the present financial year, but to the new financial year commencing on the 1st of April, 1885. Therefore, if the Government are to take the Vote on Account to-night and bring it on after you have left the Chair, and Committee of Supply has been begun on the Estimates for the current year, I want to know whether private Members will be deprived of the opportunity, which would otherwise be afforded to them, of moving an Amendment to the Motion that you leave the Chair on the first occasion of going into Committee of Supply on the Civil Service Estimates for the next financial year?—Mr. Speaker: The opportunity for the discussion, to which the hon. Member refers, will be given on the regular Civil Service Estimates of the year, [295] 893, 894

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Motions and Questions

Mr. Sexton, as a point of Order, wished to ask whether, when the Speaker publicly notified the day on which a particular Bill should be taken, it was competent for the Government to set aside that Order of the House?—Mr. Speaker: So far as the Order of the House is concerned, it is understood that the Bill referred to will be put down upon the Paper for the next sitting day—Mr. Sexton: Which has already been fixed for this day?—Mr. Speaker: The fixing of a Bill for this day does not prevent the House from exercising the usual pleasure of the House, [294] 797

Mr. Sexton said, he objected to the Motion on that account first; and next because the faith of the Speaker had been pledged from the Chair—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member is not justified in making that observation. No word of mine has been pledged in the matter. I simply act upon the Order of the House. It is a common thing for the Committee of Supply and the Committee of Ways and Means to be postponed "until this day;" but that fact does not prevent the House from postponing the consideration of those Orders for a longer period, [294] 799

Mr. Sexton said, he understood the Clerk to read the third Order of the Day, the second Order not having been disposed of—Mr. Speaker: In consequence of the Resolution passed this evening, the third Order has precedence, and the remaining Orders follow in their proper sequence, [298] 1934

Mr. Firth asked whether the House could not proceed with the Infants Bill, as it came second on the Orders of the Day?—Mr. Speaker said the Orders of the Day had not been reached. There could be no object in entering upon the Orders of the Day with the prospect of immediate interruption, [301] 37

The same Question may not be again proposed [Rule 128]—Mr. Speaker said that he could not give a decision upon the point without seeing the Bill. If the [new] Bill was substantially the same as a Bill upon which the House had come to a decision, it would be out of Order; but if it referred to a clause in a Bill which had been decided in different ways at different times, then he was clearly of opinion that it would not be irregular, [298] 1591

A Motion having already been made and negatived, a Resolution moved by an hon. and learned Member could not be put from the Chair, [295] 1285

Notice—Mr. T. D. Sullivan having given Notice of the terms of a Resolution he proposed to move on the same evening—Mr. Speaker said the Motion could not be made, as the Notice was not sufficient, [298] 1346

Withdrawal of Notice—It is quite true that the right hon. Gentleman gave Notice that on the third reading he would move the recommitment of the Bill; but I certainly understood that that Notice had been withdrawn, with the sanction of his Colleague sitting beside him; and, consequently, I allowed the Motion for the third reading to be made, [298] 441

Irregularity of Notice—Mr. Healy: I beg to give Notice that on the Motion to go into Committee on the Parliamentary Elections (Redistribution) Bill I will move, as an Amendment, that the single seat system has been specially adopted as a swindle on the people—Mr. Speaker: The Notice just given by the hon. Member will not appear upon the Paper in that form. The expression is irregular, and ought not to have been used, [294] 1612

A previous Notice having been put down on the same subject—Mr. J. H. M'Carthy asked whether, if an hon. Member withdrew his Notice, it would be in the power of another hon. Member to bring the question forward on an earlier occasion before the date originally fixed for the Motion?—Mr. Speaker said, the matter was one of extreme delicacy, the object of the Rule being to prevent the House being taken by surprise; and Mr. Speaker explained, at length, why, in his opinion, the proposal of the hon. Member was out of Order, [296] 1019

AMENDMENTS TO QUESTIONS

The Amendment of the hon. Baronet (Sir Wilfrid Lawson) is not, on the face of it, an Amendment which may be called a Vote of Want of Confidence in the Government; but it indicates that, in the opinion of the hon. Baronet, the Government are not such as he can trust in the distribution of the Business of the House in the way they propose, so far as the interests of private Members are concerned. There is nothing on the face of the Amendment, so far as I can see, which raises any difficulty, or anything to warrant me in debarring the hon. Baronet from moving it, [298] 1885

Amendments—Mr. Bryce asked whether, in the event of the Amendment of the hon. Member for Newcastle (Mr. John Morley) being put, and rejected, it would still be open to move the Amendments which stood in the names of other hon. Members?—Mr. Speaker said, that if the result of the vote—"That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the Question"—should be in the negative, then the Amendment of the hon. Gentleman would become the Substantive Question; and should that Amendment be rejected there would still remain the word "That," to which, in accordance with the practice, it would be competent to move that an addition should be made, [294] 1622

Notice of Amendments—Mr. Warton asked if it was in Order to give Notice of an Amendment to be moved on the Committee stage of a Bill before the Bill had been read a second time?—Mr. Speaker: It is somewhat irregular; and I must admit that there is some inconvenience in that course. The Notice, however, given by the hon. Member will not appear upon the Paper until the Bill reaches the proper stage, [294] 433

RULES OF DEBATE

Relevancy and Irrelevancy

Relevancy to Question—The Question before the House is the adjournment of the debate; and therefore the hon. Gentleman (Mr. Hicks) is not entitled to discuss the Main Question, [298] 1937

I must repeat that an hon. Member is not entitled to debate the Main Question on the Motion "That the Debate be now adjourned," [297] 787, 789; [298] 525

It is not in Order to discuss the principle of a Motion on the Question of the adjournment of the House, [294] 286, 765

The House is now engaged in nominating the Members of the Committee. It is not, therefore, competent for the hon. Member

(Mr. Illingworth) to re-open the whole subject, [299] 239, 240, 241

Right to Reply—Mr. Speaker said, he must call the hon. Gentleman's (Mr. J. K. Cross's) attention to the fact that he was trespassing rather too far on the indulgence of the House, as he had no right to reply, [298] 1077

The hon. Member (Mr. Kenny) is neither respectful to the House, nor is he confining himself to the subject of the Motion before the House. . . . . I really must ask the hon. Gentleman to observe the ruling of the Chair, and not to deviate into irrelevant matter, [294] 1771, 1772

The hon. Member (Mr. Ernest Noel) would not be in Order in going into the Dumfries riot; but he might refer to it by way of illustration. He could not be permitted to go fully into the case at Dumfries on the Amendment (on the Address) before the House, [293] 602, 607

Mr. Speaker: I must ask the hon. Gentleman (Mr. W. Redmond) to resume his seat. I have twice told him that his remarks are irrelevant, and that he is exceeding all reasonable latitude. I must ask him, therefore, to resume his seat. Mr. W. Redmond remaining standing—I must ask the hon. Member to resume his seat. Mr. W. Redmond: I was about—— Mr. Speaker: I ask the hon. Gentleman once more to resume his seat. Mr. W. Redmond thereupon sat down, [294] 761, 762

Mr. Speaker calls Mr. O'Brien to Order for irrelevancy, [294] 763

Mr. Speaker: It is my duty to inform the House that the debate has shown a tendency to wander from the immediate Question, which is the preparation of the Registers with respect to Parliamentary Elections. With this observation, I will leave the hon. Member (Mr. R. H. Paget) to conclude his speech, [297] 1672

The hon. and gallant Member's (General Alexander's) remarks will be more pertinent when I put the Question "That this Bill be read a third time." The Question now before the House is that the Motion for the Adjournment of the Debate be withdrawn, [298] 284

The noble Lord (Lord R. Churchill) is perfectly entitled to give reasons against the Adjournment of the House, which is the immediate Question before the House; but the noble Lord is going beyond the Question, [298] 1545, 1554

I must remind the hon. Member (Mr. Macfarlane) that there is nothing in the Bill now before the House (Medical Relief Disqualification Removal Bill) which deals with tobacco. He will, therefore, not be in Order in speaking on this subject—Mr. Macfarlane had assumed that his Amendment having been placed on the Paper was an indication that he would be in Order in moving it—Mr. Speaker: There must be some misconception on the point, as it never came under my notice. The hon. Member cannot be in Order, because the question which he has raised is not dealt with by the Bill, [299] 963

I must remind the hon. Gentleman (Mr. Rathbone) that the subject before the House is Medical Relief Disqualification. The hon. Member seems to be going into the general subject of Poor Law Administration, [299] 1426

I apprehend that the hon. Member (Mr. A. O'Connor) is not in Order in discussing a police rate when the Income Tax Bill is before the House. The Income Tax Bill has nothing to do with the police rate, [299] 284

The hon. Gentleman (Mr. Harcourt) would not be in Order in discussing the merits of the Bill upon a proposal to defer the second reading until a future day, [297] 1628

The Question of the hon. Member (Mr. Callan) does not appear to me to fairly arise out of the Question upon the Paper, [298] 1827

Premature discussion of a Subject—It is my duty to remind the House that there is no Question before it, and that any argument or debate should be deferred until we have reached the Orders of the Day, [298] 153, 160, 1040

Mr. Speaker said, the hon. Member (Mr. Shield) was out of Order in anticipating an Amendment he had put upon the Paper, [299] 1692

Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman (Mr. Callan) is anticipating a Motion which stands in his own name upon the Paper. The Question is the Adjournment of the House, [301] 29

Order in Debate

Mr. Healy: Order, order!—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member should not be so demonstrative in his remarks—Mr. Healy: Am I to understand that it is out of Order to cry "Order!" in this House?—Mr. Speaker: The tone and the way in which the hon. and learned Member expressed himself is out of Order—Mr. Healy: In that case—— Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member is not in Order in addressing the Chair in this way. If the hon. and learned Member continues I shall have to take notice of his interruption, [296] 1964

Mr. Speaker: I must ask the hon. Member (Mr. O'Kelly) to abstain from making these indecorous observations and explanations, [296] 1141

Disorderly Interruption — Mr. Speaker: I must request hon. Members not to interrupt the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Trevelyan). I have had before this evening to call attention to these repeated interruptions, which are unjustifiable on the part of any hon. Member; and I hope they will not be continued, [293] 234, 817, 818

Unparliamentary Language

Mr. Healy: I beg to give Notice that on the first and every available opportunity, in season and out of season, I will call attention in the House of Commons to the ruffianism of re-appointing Mr. George Bolton by the

Irish Government—Mr. Speaker: The expression just used by the hon. and learned Member is entirely irregular, and out of Order; and as there have been so many instances of irregular Questions being put in the form of Notices, I shall be bound to take more serious notice of them if the practice is persisted in, [293] 781

Mr. Callan—Though they were Home Rulers, and agreed in some matters and politics with the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Campbell-Bannerman), they had a greater respect for the opinions of Irish gentlemen of character and position in Ireland than they had of Scotch interlopers —— Mr. Speaker: I am bound to remind the hon. Gentleman that his language is extremely violent, and exceeds Parliamentary manners. I shall have to caution him very severely if he pursues this course of observation, [296] 1038

Mr. O'Brien: Mr. Speaker, with respect to the partly grotesque and partly shameful statement made by the right hon. Gentleman—— Mr. Speaker: Order, order! The hon. Member must withdraw the expression shameful, [294] 1029

Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member (Mr. Bulwer) complained, as I understood, of indecorous conduct on the part of some Irish Members; but he is himself quite out of Order in speaking of hon. Members as indecent Irishmen, [293] 396

Mr. Gladstone: I know not whether I caught the expression of the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. J. Lowther) correctly; but I think he said I "bolted," which is a phrase of an invidious and offensive description—— Mr. Speaker: I did not catch the expression. I thought the term used was "voted," [298] 439

Mr. E. Stanhope said, he did not wish to say anything further with regard to the job that had been perpetrated—Mr. Speaker: I do not think that the observation of the hon. Gentleman is one that ought to be allowed to pass, [298] 423

Mr. Healy: I beg to give Notice that when the Vote in reference to the Phœnix Park comes on in Committee of Supply I shall call attention to the continual encroachments on public property by the snobs and swells of Dublin Garrison—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Member is quite out of Order. The hon. and learned Member must withdraw that expression. It is not a proper or a Parliamentary expression to be used in this House, [297] 18

Mr. W. Redmond: Perhaps, however, before he concluded his remarks those who interrupted him would be the worse for their interruption—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member must continue his speech without making any threat to hon. Members of this House, [297] 1004

He (Mr. Leamy) was convinced that no honest man in Ireland would believe a word from George Bolton. The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland himself, he was certain, did not believe him. The Lord Lieutenant knew he was a scoundrel—Mr. Callan: Arcades ambo—Mr. Speaker: It appears to me from what I heard that the hon. Member for Louth has made use of an expression which is not in Order—Mr. Callan: I said tantamount to this—that the Lord Lieutenant and Mr. George Bolton were both Crown officials—Mr. Speaker: It was an irregular expression, and I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw it, [294] 318, 319

Mr. W. Redmond: A great many bad characters in Ireland, from Lord Spencer downwards, had lost their position by the fall of the late Government—Mr. Speaker: I must inform the hon. Member that that is not a respectful way to speak of any Member of the other House. I must ask him to withdraw the expression, [299] 1792

He (Mr. Hopwood) could not understand why the right hon. Gentleman opposite (Sir R. Assheton Cross) had interfered with the ordinary course, and interposed between the House and the Motion of which he had given Notice, unless it were for the indecent purpose ——["Order!"] Mr. Speaker: That is not a proper expression for the hon. and learned Member to use. It is out of Order, and I hope the hon. and learned Member will withdraw it, [300] 579

Offensive words against a Member

Mr. Speaker: An imputation of malice to any Member of the House is undoubtedly out of Order. The hon. Member (Mr. Lewis) will withdraw the expression, [299] 1110

If the hon. Member (Mr. T. P. O'Connor) intends, either directly or indirectly, to impute any conduct of the kind to the hon. and learned Gentleman (The Attorney General) and the right hon. Gentleman (Sir W. Harcourt) he is clearly out of Order, and he must withdraw the imputation, [297] 1023

Mr. Speaker: If the hon. and learned Member (Mr. Solicitor General for Ireland) alludes to any Member of this House when he says there has been a deliberate attempt to prevent justice, he is not in Order in doing so, [293] 180

Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member (Mr. Roundell) is not in Order in stating that hon. Members have trumped up charges with that motive. The hon. Gentleman, I am sure, will withdraw that expression, [293] 310, 311

Mr. Speaker: It would be altogether out of Order for the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Chamberlain) to accuse the noble Lord (Lord Randolph Churchill) of not believing in charges which he has brought before the House. If the right hon. Gentleman says that, he will not be in Order, [293] 569, 570

Sir C. Dilke: I wish to know whether the hon. Member (Mr. P. A. Muntz) is in Order in imputing dishonest practices to a Member of this House?—Mr. Speaker: I did not catch the expression to which the right hon. Gentleman alludes; but, undoubtedly, it would be an improper and un-Parliamentary expression, [293] 599

Mr. John Redmond: Then he denied that the nuns were "assaulted," although the Mayor distinctly used the word himself; therefore he charged the hon. Member with being dishonest. ["Oh!"] He used the word entirely in a Parliamentary sense—Mr. Speaker: The charge against an hon. Member of being dishonest is one that ought not to be made in this House, and I hope the hon. Member will withdraw it, [294] 964

Lord Colin Campbell: He found one great difficulty in dealing with the hon. Member (Mr. Macfarlane), and that was his singular character of duplicity—Mr. Speaker: That is not a term which should be used in this House by one hon. Member to another hon. Member. I hope the noble Lord will withdraw that expression, [293] 1794

Sir F. Milner: . . . . . and especially to listen to that refined discourse which was delivered by the hon. Member for Southwark (Mr. Thorold Rogers), whom the Speaker had to call to Order three times for not behaving himself like a gentleman—["Order, order!"]—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member is not entitled to speak in that way, and to say that an hon. Member did not behave himself like a gentleman, [293] 1276

Sir H. D. Wolff: Notwithstanding the speech which the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Chamberlain) has made with his usual insolence—Mr. Speaker: I hope the hon. Gentleman will withdraw that expression, [293] 263, 264

Mr. Chamberlain: Last night I did not reply to the statement of the hon. Member for Portsmouth, who appeared to me on that occasion to be acting as jackal to the noble Lord—Lord R. Churchill: In the interest of Parliamentary decency, I rise to Order—Mr. Speaker: I hope the noble Lord will not take the word in too literal a sense. I regarded it as figuratively used, and not, therefore, transgressing any Rule of the House, and I do not think the noble Lord himself can be serious in the matter, [293] 165

Mr. Healy: I wish to ask you, Sir, whether it is admissible for an hon. Gentleman, under cover of a Question, to make a gross insinuation of perjury against a series of Members of this House? I wish to ask whether you, Sir, as Speaker of this House, will allow an imputation of that kind to be cast upon Members of this House?—Mr. Speaker: Any imputation of that kind cast upon a Member of this House would, in my opinion, be out of Order; and if the hon. Member (Mr. M'Coan) had desired to put the Question on the Paper I would certainly have revised it, [296] 1860

Mr. Broadhurst: He wished to know, therefore, notwithstanding the obstruction of the right hon. Gentleman the Member for Westminster ——["Order, order!"]—Mr. Speaker: I must ask the hon. Member to withdraw that expression. His supplementary Question is irregular in itself—Mr. Broadhurst: I most heartily withdraw the expression if it is out of Order, [296] 1106

Reference to the House of Lords—The hon. Member (Mr. Thorold Rogers) is referring to the other branch of the Legislature, and I am bound to remind him that he must speak with respect of the House of Lords

Mr. Thorold Rogers said, he withdrew the expression at once . . . . Might he not remind hon. Members that Bills were constantly brought into that House to settle the estates of noble profligates?—Mr. Speaker: The remarks of the hon. Member are, I think, regrettable; and I do not see that they are relevant to the Question now before the House, [293] 1164

Mr. Rogers proceeded—In 1832 the Freemen were disfranchised by that House, but were restored to their position by that august and noble Assembly which met in an adjacent Chamber, just as that Assembly would always restore any mischievous and scandalous institution—Mr. Speaker: Order, Order! I must remind the hon. Member that his remarks are contrary to the principles of amenity which should guide the conduct of Members of this House in speaking of the other House, [293] 1165

I must remind the hon. and learned Member (Mr. Healy) that Members of the other branch of the Legislature must be spoken of with respect in this House. Besides, the conduct of Lord Ardilaun is not now under consideration, [298] 101

Her Majesty's Judges—Mr. Biggar: There was an institution in that City with which they were, doubtless, more or less acquainted, associated with the name of "Judge and Jury," and Baron Nicholson might be said to preside with quite as much dignity and fairness at the "Coal-Hole" as some of the Irish Judges, of whom a certain number were admittedly of an objectionable character—Mr. Speaker: I do not think the expression just used by the hon. Member is a proper one. If the hon. Gentleman does not withdraw it, I will be obliged to take further notice of his conduct, [293] 822

Mr. T. P. O'Connor: With a jury of 12 of the Loyal Party, and with a ferocious partizan in the shape of a Judge——Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman has just used an expression which is quite out of Order. The hon. Gentleman has used an expression which he ought not to have used in speaking of a Judge as a ferocious partizan. I ask him to be good enough to withdraw that expression, [295] 1813

Mr. Speaker: The hon. Gentleman asks me a Question on a point of Order. The Question could not be received in that form, because it impugned the conduct of a Judge, and that would not be the proper form to impugn the conduct of such an official, [294] 1750

Questions by Members

Argumentative Questions

The hon. Member (Mr. W. Redmond), under cover of giving Notice of a Question, is now arguing, [295] 1082

The Question of the hon. Member (Mr. T. P. O'Connor) is argumentative in discussing the course of procedure, which is entirely in the discretion of the Government, [296] 848

The hon. Gentleman (Mr. Parnell) is now putting his Question in a very argumentative form. If he will confine himself to a mere Question he will be in Order, [296] 1637

The Question, as I read it, certainly does contain statements which are liable to be disputed. I am always glad, with the sanction of the House, to take every opportunity of eliminating from Questions all matters of a contentious nature. However, the substance of the Question, when such disputatious matter has been eliminated, can be put, [298] 146

Mr. Speaker: Before the hon. Gentleman (Mr. M'Coan) puts this Question, I must call his attention to the fact that the last two lines contravene the Rule of this House which applies to Questions, inasmuch as they contain a statement of fact which, I understand, is disputed; and also a matter of opinion as to the interpretation to be put upon the articles in question, which he states to be "appeals to popular ignorance and passion." Following the Rule which applies to Questions, I must ask the hon. Gentleman to be good enough to omit that portion of the Question, [294] 611, 612

The hon. Gentleman (Mr. Percy Wyndham) is clearly entering upon matter of debate, [298] 165

Irregularity of Question

Mr. Speaker: Order, order! This new Question does not arise in any way out of the Question on the Paper, [293] 1366

The supplementary Question which the hon. Member (Mr. Callan) now proposes to put was, by my direction, expunged, and I cannot allow it to be put, [293] 160

I must point out to the hon. Member (Mr. Callan) that it is not permissible to deliberately read any part of a Question which I have ruled to be entirely out of Order, [299] 912

It is irregular to ask Questions with regard to matters of opinion, as it is obvious that if that practice were allowed to be indulged in it would give rise to a great deal of debate and controversy, ib.

Irregularity of Notice of Question—Mr. W. Redmond: I also give Notice that I shall take every opportunity afforded me of calling attention to the shameful conduct of the Land Commission in Ireland in dismissing a gentleman of the high character and qualifications of Mr. Haughton—— Mr. Speaker: Order, order? The hon. Gentleman is not entitled to use the epithet which he has just used in giving Notice of a Question. . . . . As the Question could not appear in that shape upon the Paper, it is irregular to give Notice of it in that form, [294] 441

I have to observe that one of the paragraphs in the Question has escaped Notice, and has inadvertently been allowed to appear on the

Notice Paper. It is an improper and irregular paragraph, and I shall not allow it to be put, [293] 789

Mr. Speaker: I must certainly acknowledge that the last paragraph of the Question cannot come within the limits of a proper Question to a Minister of the Crown. It asks, "What answer the Returning Officer intends to give;" and I must rule that that portion of the Question is irregular, and cannot be put, [295] 1240

Sir H. D. Wolff having asked a Question respecting the policy of the Government in postponing the renewal of the Prevention of Crime (Ireland) Act, 1882—Mr. Speaker: As far as I am able to gather the purport of the Question put by the hon. Member, I do not think that it comes within the fair limit of Questions ordinarily put in this House, [294] 1048

The hon. Member (Mr. Tomlinson) said he desired to put the Question in the form in which he originally placed it on the Paper—namely, by substituting for "serious" the words "humiliating and disastrous to British interests" — Mr. Speaker: Those words would be out of Order, [296] 1862

Alteration of Question

Mr. W. Redmond asked why a portion of a Question of which he had given Notice (respecting a pier at Moville) had been struck out?—Mr. Speaker: I do not understand that there was anything in the Question struck out; and the Clerk at the Table is not cognizant of such a thing, [294] 47

Mr. Sexton asked whether a Notice given by the hon. Member for Armagh (Mr. Beresford) can appear upon the Notice Paper in that form; and whether it does not doubly violate the Rules by applying the terms "outrageous and cowardly" to Members of this House; and, also, whether it is not out of Order in expressing an opinion?—Mr. Speaker: The Notice given by the hon. Member will be revised and put into a proper shape before it appears on the Paper, [295] 1679

Mr. Dixon-Hartland said, his Question was so utterly mutilated by the way it had been altered at the Table that he declined to put it as it appeared on the Paper—Mr. Speaker said, what the hon. Member stated to be mutilation was the omission of a newspaper comment, which was couched in strong language, and did not contain a mere statement of fact, [295] 882

Answers to Questions

Of course, the hon. Member (Mr. M'Coan) is entitled to put a Question to a Minister of the Crown; but it is entirely within the discretion of the Minister to give it any answer which he thinks right—it is for him to judge what answer should be given to any Question, [300] 823

The Minister who is to answer the Question will, no doubt, be prepared to say whether the Question has already been answered or not, [299] 1401

The hon. Member (Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett) has asked a Question, and I understood the Prime Minister to say that he did not think it consistent with his public duty to give an Answer. The hon. Gentleman is now arguing the question why an Answer should be given, [298] 1035

Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett: I should like also to point out that the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Gladstone), in quoting the Question, used the word "agree;" whereas I asked whether the Government "adhere" to the statement of the Secretary of State for India—Mr. Speaker: It is entirely within the discretion of the First Lord of the Treasury to decide what answer he shall give, [295] 1703

Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member (Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett) is asking the noble Lord (the Marquess of Hartington) to reply to a Question he has already replied to; and is, therefore, not in Order, [296] 393

Mr. Sexton wished to know, as a matter of Order, whether a Question could be put in the absence of the hon. Member in whose name it stood upon the Paper?—Mr. Speaker said, that the Question was a personal one, and put as a matter of courtesy to the hon. and gallant Member (Colonel King-Harman), [298] 491

Sir George Campbell: As the noble Lord (Lord R. Churchill) was not in his place he might, perhaps, be permitted to answer the Question himself. He did not expect the noble Lord to come down to the House to answer this one Question; but he had been furnished with the reply, which was of some public interest, and, with the permission of the House, he would read it—Mr. Speaker pointed out that the course about to be taken was contrary to the practice of the House, [301] 13

Questions identical in terms — Mr. Speaker: This Question is in identical terms with one put on the Paper and answered yesterday; and it is contrary to the Rules of the House to put it again, [293] 904

Mr. Speaker: I do not think the hon. Gentleman (Mr. A. J. Balfour) is in Order in asking a Question which does not arise out of the Answers given. . . The hon. Member is not in Order in putting to a Minister a Question as to the construction of an Answer given by another Minister, [298] 1409

The hon. Gentleman (Mr. A. J. Balfour) is entirely out of Order. He is now referring to a past debate, [298] 1410

Mr. Gibson: I ask you, Mr. Speaker, if the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Childers) is in Order, having answered the Question, to go into these matters, which are subjects of debate and discussion? — Mr. Speaker: I understand the right hon. Gentleman is only stating facts in answer to the Question, [295] 103

General

Mr. Speaker: As the language attributed to the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Bright) is now under the consideration of the House, the right hon. Gentleman will follow precedent by withdrawing—Mr. Bright: Cannot I stay here, Sir, if I do not vote?—Mr. Speaker: The course generally followed is to withdraw; and the right hon. Gentleman will follow precedent by withdrawing, [300] 266

Whether certain expressions used were a breach of the Privileges of the House or not, 283, 304, 306

Mr. Onslow: I wish to ask you, Sir, whether a Minister of the Crown, having, in the face of this House, deliberately stated certain facts to prove his case, or in aid of some other case, when those facts have been found in a Court of Law to be utterly inconsistent with what really took place, it is not his duty, as a Minister of the Crown, to apologize to the House?—Mr. Speaker: I have only to say, in answer to the appeal of the hon. Member, that there is no point of Order before me, nor any point upon which a direction from the Chair is necessary, [294] 1039

Mr. W. Redmond rose to move the adjournment of the debate, and was called on by name; but gave way to Mr. Chamberlain. When the hon. Member rose the second time, Mr. Speaker thought it right to call upon Mr. W. Redmond again, [293] 513

Lord R. Churchill asked, if it is in Order for a Minister of the Crown to put words into the mouth of a Member of Parliament which that Member of Parliament never uttered?—Mr. Speaker: If the noble Lord repudiates the words, I have no doubt the right hon. Gentleman (Mr. Chamberlain) will not insist upon them. It is not a question of Order, [293] 164

Mr. Deasy: I wish to ask you, Mr. Speaker, whether it would be irregular to omit the prefix "Mr." from the name of French under the circumstances I have mentioned?—Mr. Speaker: I do not see that any question of Order would arise in adding the prefix "Mr." or in omitting it, [294] 268

Personal Explanation—Mr. Speaker: If the hon. Member (Mr. O'Brien) wishes to make a personal explanation, the House will grant its indulgence.—Mr. O'Brien: I merely wish to say that whatever may be the opinion of the right hon. Gentleman—— Mr. Speaker: That is not in the nature of a personal explanation, [294] 613

Speaking a second time—Mr. Onslow said he would like to know from the Chair whether, if he asked a Question now, he should imperil his right to speak in the debate when it came on?—Mr. Speaker said that by putting a Question now the hon. Member would not be barred from taking part in the debate, [295] 223

Production of Public Documents—Lord Randolph Churchill asked the Speaker whether, when a Minister presented Papers to the House, and made a statement with reference to them, the Motion would not be made that the Papers lie on the Table?—Mr. Speaker: The Motion would be to refer the Vote to a Committee of Supply—Lord Randolph Churchill: And on that a Debate would arise?—Mr. Speaker: Yes—Mr. J. Lowther: Will it take precedence of Notices of Motions on Tuesday?—Mr. Speaker: Yes—it would take precedence, [297] 33, 34

Quoting from Speeches in the other House—Colonel Nolan asked whether it was not out of Order to answer Questions, as the noble Lord (Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice) had done, by quotations from speeches made in the House of Lords?—Mr. Speaker: There is no point of Order to be raised. I did not understand the noble Lord to quote from any speech made in the House of Lords; but to refer to a speech in general terms, [296] 1102

DIVISIONS

No Member is entitled to vote on a question in which he has a direct pecuniary interest. Sir E. Watkin had a pecuniary interest in the Channel Tunnel (Experimental Works) Bill, and therefore could not vote—Lord R. Churchill had a pecuniary interest in an undertaking of a precisely similar character; and asked Mr. Speaker whether that circumstance would prevent him from voting on the Motion of Sir E. Watkin?—Mr. Speaker: There is no Rule or custom of the House on the subject; and I should recommend each Member to be guided by his own feelings in the matter, and to vote, or abstain from voting, as he thinks fit, [298] 342

Tellers—In reply to the hon. and learned Member (Mr. Warton), it will be in the recollection of the House that I distinctly asked the hon. and learned Member who would tell with him, and, as I received no reply, I named the hon. Member for Cavan (Mr. Biggar), because he had supported the Motion moved by the hon. and learned Member, [298] 936

On Motion, "That leave be given to bring in a Bill for extending the Parliamentary Franchise to Women," a division being taken, there appeared: Ayes 29; Noes 8—Mr. Warton: I rise to Order. I wish, Sir, to call your attention to the fact that there are not 40 Members present—Mr. Speaker: Including the Tellers there are more than 40 Members present, [294] 23, 24

COMMITTEES

Select Committees—Attendance of Members—The Select Committee on Railway Bills (Group 4) having reported that two of the Members of the said Committee were not present at the hour appointed, the hon. Gentlemen were ordered to attend the Committee. It was, however, stated, on behalf of Mr. Kenny, that he had received a notification that he would be required to attend during a certain week, but not of the day and hour when he would be required—Mr. Kenny now complained that the Order to attend implied a censure upon him—Mr. Speaker said, that in the absence of any such notification no censure upon the hon. Member would be implied, [296] 1841

Public Sessional Committees—The Committee of Selection having been nominated—Mr. Sexton asked whether he would be in Order in moving that certain Members should be added to these Committees?—Mr. Speaker said, that a Member could make a Motion of that kind on giving due notice of his intention, [294] 906

Select Committees—Nomination—I have not put the first name of the hon. Member who it is proposed should form the Select Committee; and, therefore, the wider Question is still before the House on the Question that the Select Committee do consist of such and such Members, [297] 781

Mr. Sexton moved that the Return be printed, with a view to its being circulated—Mr. Speaker said, he would remind the hon. Gentleman that every Return of a Select Committee is printed in the ordinary course, [301] 24

INSTRUCTIONS TO COMMITTEES

The hon. Member (Mr. Kenny) would be out of Order in moving the Instruction, as the Committee had power to do what the Instruction proposed, [294] 1938

The Instruction the hon. and learned Member (Mr. Warton) would move is not necessary. The Committee will be competent to deal with that Question without that Motion, [299] 574

It is perfectly in Order to move an Instruction to the Committee to do what it would not otherwise be able to do, [293] 1387

PUBLIC BILLS

Earldom of Mar Restitution Bill—Moved, "That the Bill be now read the first time"—Sir G. Campbell asked if it was in Order to read a Bill for the first time in this manner? It was a peculiar Bill, and he would like to know why this extraordinary course was being followed?—Mr. Speaker: The Bill has been brought down from the other House, and it is read a first time as a matter of course—The Chancellor of the Exchequer: The object is to obtain the Royal Assent for the Bill—Bill read the first time, and, immediately, after short debate, read the second time, [300] 683, 684

Tramways Order in Council (Ireland) Bill—Mr. Healy asked whether the Bill was to be regarded as a Public or as a Private Bill—there being some uncertainty on the point owing to what had occurred in the other House, and a great Constitutional question might arise upon it?—Mr. Speaker said, that the measure had been treated as a Public Bill in the House of Lords, [299] 1693

Notice—Mr. A. O'Connor asked whether it would not be in accordance with the Orders and established practice of the House, that when leave was applied for to bring in a Public Bill there should be a Notice on the Notice Paper?—Mr. Speaker: The course indicated by the hon. Gentleman is in Order. The Bill was brought in in accordance with a Resolution previously agreed to. Under those circumstances no Notice was necessary, [296] 1296

Orders of the Day—On Motion, "That the Bill (Army (Annual) Bill) be now read a second time"—Mr. Sexton: I object. The Motion is only on the Paper for the first time to-day; and, consequently, Members have not had an opportunity of putting down a Notice of Opposition—Mr. Speaker: This is an Order of the Day, and the fact of the hon. Gentleman's objecting does not prevent it from coming on, [296] 366, 367, 371

When a Bill is the Order of the Day, the Bill becomes the property of the House, and it is competent for any hon. Member to move its further stages, [299] 567

Oaths Bill—Order read, for resuming the adjourned Debate on Question, "That the Bill be now read the second time"—Mr. Newdegate moved "That the Order be discharged"—Mr. Speaker said, in the absence of the hon. and learned Member who had charge of the Bill (Mr. Hopwood), it would be a very unusual course for the Order to be discharged, [299] 1865

Mr. Onslow said, that as the Bill (Infants Bill) contained matter for grave discussion he begged to move that the Committee be taken on Friday—Mr. Speaker: It is a most unusual course to take in the absence of the Member in charge of the Bill (Mr. Bryce), [300] 1856; Police Enfranchisement Extension Bill, [300] 1523

Amendments—Municipal Voters (Relief) Bill—Moved, "That the Bill, as amended, be now considered"—Mr. Healy said, he understood that no Amendment had been proposed or made in the Bill; and he wished to ask, as a point of Order, whether there was really any stage before the House? As there had been no Amendment to the Bill, in his judgment the heading given to it in the Orders of the Day was inaccurate, and the Bill could not come before the House under the stage of a Bill to be considered, as amended

Mr. Speaker: The stage has not been abolished, although there has been no amendment to the Bill, [295] 1044

Notice of Amendments—Elections in Counties (Hours of Poll) Bill—Consideration—Mr. Warton desired to propose a new clause—Mr. Speaker: The hon. and learned Gentleman has not given Notice of the Clause—Mr. Warton: I gave Notice of it to Sir Arthur Otway (the Chairman of Committees)—Mr. Speaker: The Notice was not sufficient to comply with the Rules of the House, [295] 402

Amendments—The hon. Member (Mr. Orr-Ewing) is going to a point prior in the Bill to that in respect of which the hon. Member for Ipswich (Mr. Jesse Collings) has now moved an Amendment; and it is only by asking the hon. Member to withdraw that Amendment that he can bring forward the Amendment to which he refers, [299] 1656

Re-commitment — The hon. Member (Mr. Ramsay) would be in Order in moving to re-commit the Bill, with a view to insert a definite Amendment, [299] 1657, 1658, 1659

Criminal Law Amendment Bill, Committee—Mr. Speaker said, they had gone through the clause now. It was, therefore, too late to make any further Amendment on the clause—Mr. Morgan Lloyd asked whether he could not make some addition to the clause at the end?—Mr. Speaker said, it was impossible to make any Amendment now. The Question was, whether the clause, as amended, should stand part of the Bill? [300] 1390

Mr. Labouchere rose to move a clause he had put upon the Paper. Objected to—Mr. Speaker: At this stage of the Bill anything can be introduced into it by the leave of the House, [300] 1357

Mr. Speaker said, he had allowed the hon. Member (Mr. Callan) to go on; but it appeared to him that under cover of moving a new clause he was re-trying a case which had already been settled by a Court of Law. He might raise the case as an illustration of his argument; but to discuss it at great length in the manner he was doing was going beyond the limits of debate and would be entirely out of Order, [300] 1425, 1426, 1427

Irrelevancy of Amendment—Dr. Lyons having moved, in the Parliamentary Elections (Redistribution) Bill, Schedule 4 (New Boroughs), to insert, as a separate paragraph, "Royal University of Ireland—Two Members"—Mr. Speaker ruled that the Amendment was out of Order, as the Royal University was not a borough, [297] 1071

Mr. Jesse Collings: Considering the extreme urgency of the Measure (Medical Relief Disqualification Removal Bill), I beg to move that the third reading of the Bill be now taken—Mr. Speaker: Is it the pleasure of the House to take the third reading of the Bill now? ["No, no!"] The third reading of the Bill can only be taken by the general concurrence of the House, and that has not been obtained, [299] 1673, 1674

Poor Law Guardians (Ireland) Bill—Bill, as amended, considered. Moved, "That the Bill be now read the third time"—Mr. Tottenham said he objected to the third reading, on the ground that several hon. Members interested in the Bill were absent—Mr. Parnell asked if the objection of a single hon. Member was fatal to the Motion?—Mr. Speaker said that was not so. The question was for the decision of the House, [293] 1707

The Yorkshire Registries Act (1884) Amendment Bill having been presented and read the first and second time and committed at the same Sitting, the Judge Advocate General appealed to the House to pass the Bill through its remaining stages—Mr. Warton opposed—Mr. Speaker: What is required is the general assent of the House; but where a personal injury would be inflicted, as I understand would be the case if this Bill is not passed, the House has generally taken a lenient view, and allowed one or more stages to be taken. It does not require the unanimous sense of the House, [294] 570

Money Bills—East India Unclaimed Stocks Bill—This Bill, under the Standing Order, is the same as an ordinary Money Bill. It is essentially a Money Bill, [297] 606

Money Clauses—It is necessary to pass a Resolution in Committee for the purpose of sanctioning a Money Clause in a Bill. The Bill itself (Post Office Sites (Purchase of Land and Expenses)) is not entirely a Money Bill; but it contains a clause which is a Money Clause; and in order to bring that clause in harmony with the Rules of the House it is necessary to set up the Bill in Committee, so that the Money Clause may be inserted in it, [297] 137, 138

Amendments—It is not competent for the hon. Member (Mr. M'Coan) to move an Amendment which would have the effect of raising the penalty. . . . The ruling he had given had reference to the money penalty only, but did not apply to the term of imprisonment, [300] 1502, 1504

PRIVATE BILLS

"Blocking"—The Half-past Twelve Rule—Private Bill Legislation—Second Reading—Sir Joseph Pease said, he wished, with the permission of the House, to insert an Amendment in the Question as it stood on the Paper—Mr. Speaker: The hon. Member's own Amendment acts as a block after half-past 12. He cannot, therefore, proceed with his proposal, [295] 585

Mr. Biggar said, that as a question of Order he would ask whether or not, as the Motion had been objected to, it ought not, as a matter of course, to stand over until to-morrow?—Mr. Speaker said, that the Rule only applied to Orders of the Day. The Motion did not come before the House as an Order of the Day; but its only object was to facilitate a further stage of the Bill at a future time. Therefore, it was not irregular to discuss the Motion now, [299] 1615

Ramsden Estate Bill—The action taken by the hon. Member for Salford (Mr. Arthur Arnold) was in the nature of opposition; and, therefore, the Bill must stand over until to-morrow, [300] 1036

Southwark and Vauxhall Water Bill—Mr. Speaker: Order! I must remind the hon. and learned Gentleman (Mr. Firth) that the Motion before the House is, "That the Order for the Second Reading of the Bill be read and discharged." It is quite irregular to discuss the merits of the Bill upon such a Motion, [300] 240

PROVISIONAL ORDER BILL

Local Government (Ireland) Provisional Orders Bill—Colonel King-Harman asked whether it was in Order to take this Bill at the time for Private Bills? It had been treated as a Public Bill in the Upper House—Mr. Speaker: The Bill is a Public Bill; but it is customary to take Provisional Order Bills at this time—Mr. Sexton: The Amendment made by the Lords related to a distinct and fresh matter—namely, the allowance per head of water. He submitted that this Amendment was not within the scope of the Bill, and should not be considered by the House—Mr. Speaker: It is within the competence of this House to agree or disagree with what the Lords have inserted. There is nothing on the face of the Amendment to prevent the Lords from inserting it, or this House from discussing it, [300] 1558
